Dear Ms. Cortez:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 795113 (Reference No. 19-1004-1011).

The City of El Paso (the "city") received a request for information pertaining to a specified request for qualifications. You claim the submitted information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.104 of the Government Code. Additionally, you state release of this information may implicate the proprietary interests of Dover, Kohl & Partners; Freese & Nichols; and Verdunity. Accordingly, you state, and provide documentation showing, you notified the interested third parties of the request for information and of their right to submit arguments to this office as to why the information at issue should not be released. See Gov't Code § 552.305(d); see also Open Records Decision No. 542 (1990) (statutory predecessor to section 552.305 permits governmental body to rely on interested third party to raise and explain applicability of exception in the Act in certain circumstances). We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

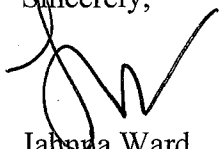

Section 552.104(a) of the Government Code excepts from disclosure "information that, if released, would give advantage to a competitor or bidder." Gov't Code § 552.104(a). The "test under section 552.104 is whether knowing another bidder's [or competitor's information] would be an advantage, not whether it would be a decisive advantage." Boeing Co. v. Paxton, 466 S.W.3d 831 (Tex. 2015). You represent the submitted information pertains to a competitive bidding situation. In addition, you state the release of this information "would disadvantage the [c]ity in the negotiations of final agreements." After reviewing the submitted information and considering your arguments, we find the city has established the release of the submitted information would give advantage to a competitor or bidder. Accordingly, we conclude the city may withhold the submitted information under section 552.104(a) of the Government Code.
