Mr. Rahat Huq
Assistant City Attorney
City of Houston
P.O. Box 368

OR2019-31734

Dear Mr. Huq:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 796199 (ORR# 26130).

The City of Houston (the "city") received a request for e-mails and attachments sent or received by a named individual related to specified topics, and specified contracts or grants, during a specified time period. Although the city takes no position as to whether the submitted information is excepted under the Act, the city states release of the submitted information may implicate the proprietary interests of Military Talent Group, DeVry Works/DeVry University ("DeVry"), Authentic Veteran Employment, and Centurion Military Alliance ("CMA"). Accordingly, the city states, and provides documentation showing, it notified the third parties of the request for information and of the right to submit arguments to this office as to why the submitted information should not be released. See Gov't Code § 552.305(d); see also Open Records Decision No. 542 (1990) (statutory predecessor to section 552.305 permits governmental body to rely on interested third party to raise and explain applicability of exception in the Act in certain circumstances). We have received comments from DeVry. We have reviewed the submitted arguments and the submitted information. We have also received and considered comments from the requestor. See Gov't Code § 552.304 (interested party may submit comments stating why information should or should not be released).

Initially, we note an interested third party is allowed ten business days after the date of its receipt of the governmental body's notice under section 552.305(d) to submit its reasons, if any, as to why information relating to that party should be withheld from public disclosure. See Gov't Code § 552.305(d)(2)(B). As of the date of this letter, we have not received comments from any of the remaining third parties explaining why the submitted information should not be released. Therefore, we have no basis to conclude any of the remaining third parties has a protected proprietary interest in the submitted information. See id. § 552.110; Open Records Decision Nos. 661 at 5-6 (1999) (to prevent disclosure of commercial or financial information, party must show by specific factual evidence, not conclusory or generalized allegations, that release of requested information would cause that party substantial competitive harm), 552 at 5 (1990) (party must establish prima facie case that information is trade secret), 542 at 3. Accordingly, the city may not withhold the submitted information on the basis of any proprietary interest any of the remaining third parties may have in the information.

Initially, DeVry argues its submitted information is not subject to the Act. The Act applies to “public information,” which is defined in section 552.002 of the Government Code as information that is written, produced, collected, assembled, or maintained under a law or ordinance or in connection with the transaction of official business:

- (1) by a governmental body; or
- (2) for a governmental body and the governmental body:
  - (A) owns the information;
  - (B) has a right of access to the information; or
  - (C) spends or contributes public money for the purpose of writing, producing, collecting, assembling, or maintaining the information; or
- (3) by an individual officer or employee of a governmental body in the officer’s or employee’s official capacity and the information pertains to official business of the governmental body.

Gov’t Code § 552.002(a). Thus, virtually all of the information in a governmental body’s physical possession constitutes public information and is subject to the Act. Id. § 552.002(a)(1); see Open Records Decision Nos. 549 at 4 (1990), 514 at 1-2 (1988). The Act can also encompass information that a governmental body does not physically possess. Information that is written, produced, collected, assembled, or maintained by a third party may be subject to disclosure under the Act if a governmental body owns, has a right of access, or spends or contributes public money for the purpose of writing, producing, collecting, assembling, or maintaining the information. Gov’t Code § 552.002(a); see Open Records Decision No. 462 at 4 (1987); cf. Open Records Decision No. 499 (1988). Information is “in connection with the transaction of official business” if it is “created by, transmitted to, received by, or maintained by an officer or employee of the governmental body in the officer’s or employee’s official capacity, or a person or entity performing official business or a government function on behalf of a governmental body, and pertains to official business of the governmental body.” Id. § 552.002(a-1). Moreover, section 552.001 of the Act provides it is the policy of this state that each person is entitled, unless otherwise expressly provided by law, at all times to complete information about the affairs of government and the official acts of public officials and employees. See id. § 552.001(a).

DeVry contends some of the submitted information, consisting of a partnership agreement between DeVry and CMA, is not subject to the Act because the information consists of an agreement between two private parties. However, we note the information at issue is maintained by the city and was submitted by the city as information responsive to the request. Accordingly, we find this information was written, produced, collected, assembled, or maintained in connection with the transaction of the city’s official business. Therefore, we conclude the information at issue is subject to the Act and the city must release it unless the information falls within an exception to public disclosure under the Act. See id. §§ 552.006, .021, .301, .302.

DeVry also states portions of its information are excepted from disclosure under section 552.110 of the Government Code. Section 552.110(b) protects “[c]ommercial or financial information for which it is demonstrated based on specific factual evidence that disclosure would cause substantial competitive harm to the person from whom the information was obtained[.]” Gov’t Code § 552.110(b). This exception to disclosure requires a specific factual or evidentiary showing, not conclusory or generalized allegations, that substantial competitive injury would likely result from release of the information at issue. Id.; see also Open Records Decision No. 661 at 5 (1999) (to prevent disclosure of commercial or financial information, party must show by specific factual evidence, not conclusory or generalized allegations, that release of requested information would cause that party substantial competitive harm).

DeVry argues portions of its information consist of commercial information the release of which would cause substantial competitive harm under section 552.110(b) of the Government Code. Upon review, we find DeVry has failed to demonstrate the release of any of the information would result in substantial harm to its competitive position. See ORD 661. Accordingly, the city may not withhold any of DeVry’s remaining information under section 552.110(b) of the Government Code.

We note the submitted information contains e-mail addresses that may be subject to section 552.137 of the Government Code.<sup>1</sup> Section 552.137 excepts from disclosure “an e-mail address of a member of the public that is provided for the purpose of communicating electronically with a governmental body” unless the member of the public consents to its release or the e-mail address is of a type specifically excluded by subsection (c). See id. § 552.137(a)-(c). Section 552.137 is not applicable to an institutional e-mail address, an Internet website address, an e-mail address that a governmental entity maintains for one of its officials or employees, or a personal e-mail address belonging to a city employee or official used to conduct official government business. See Austin Bulldog v. Leffingwell, 490 S.W.3d 240 (Tex. App.—Austin 2016, no pet.) (holding personal e-mail addresses of government officials used to conduct official government business are not e-mail addresses of “members of the public” for purposes of Gov’t Code § 552.137(a)). Because we are unable to discern whether the e-mail addresses within the responsive documents belong to city employees or officials or fall within the scope of section 552.137(c), we must rule conditionally. To the extent the e-mail addresses at issue belong to members of the public, the city must withhold such e-mail addresses under section 552.137, unless the individuals to whom the e-mail addresses belong affirmatively consent to their release. See id. § 552.137(b). However, to the extent the e-mail addresses at issue are excluded by subsection 552.137(c) or belong to a city employee or official, the e-mail addresses may not be withheld under section 552.137 of the Government Code. The city must release the remaining information.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor.
