Dear Ms. Parker:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 807801.

The Texas Department of Transportation ("TxDOT") received a request for information pertaining to a specified investigation of the requestor. TxDOT claims the submitted information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the Government Code. We have considered the claimed exception and reviewed the submitted representative sample of information.¹

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. This section encompasses the common-law physical safety exception that the Texas Supreme Court recognized in Texas Department of Public Safety v. Cox Texas Newspapers, L.P. & Hearst Newspapers, L.L.C., 343 S.W.3d 112, 117 (Tex. 2011) ("freedom from physical harm is an independent interest protected under law, untethered to the right of privacy"). In the Cox decision, the Supreme Court recognized, for the first time, a common-law physical safety exception to required disclosure. Cox, 343 S.W.3d at 118. Pursuant to this common-law physical safety exception, the court determined

“information may be withheld [from public release] if disclosure would create a substantial threat of physical harm.” Id. In applying this new standard, the court noted “deference must be afforded” law enforcement experts regarding the probability of harm, but further cautioned “vague assertions of risk will not carry the day.” Id. at 119. Upon review, we find TxDOT has failed to establish release of any of the submitted information would subject any individual to a substantial threat of physical harm. Accordingly, TxDOT may not withhold the information under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with the common-law physical safety exception. Therefore, TxDOT must release the submitted information.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor.
