Dear Ms. Saenz:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 857578.

The City of Austin Employees' Retirement System (the "system") received a request for specified information pertaining to a specified system meeting. You state you are releasing some of the requested information. You claim the submitted information is excepted from disclosure under sections 552.104 and 552.143 of the Government Code. We have considered the exceptions you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

- (b) Unless the information has been publicly released, pre-investment and post-investment diligence information, including reviews and analyses, prepared or maintained by a governmental body or a private investment fund is confidential and excepted from [required public disclosure], except to the extent it is subject to disclosure under Subsection (c).

Gov't Code § 552.143(a)-(b). You state the submitted information consists of "analysis pertaining to both pre- and post-investment due diligence" and "an analysis framework for conducting due diligence analysis, for analyzing current and prospective investments, and for structuring the investments of the [system's] fund as a whole" created by system staff in conjunction with the system's investment consultants. You also state the information at issue does not consist of the type of information that is subject to section 552.0225(b) of the Government Code, and we understand this information is not subject to disclosure pursuant to section 552.143(c) of the Government Code. Further, you state the information at issue has not been released to the public. Based on these representations and our review, we find the system must withhold the submitted information under section 552.143 of the Government Code.¹
